From the President

AT THIS YEAR'S Williams Leadership Academy and National Convention, I had the dubious distinction of throwing out one of the ceremonial first pitches during our alumni event with the Toledo Mud Hens. There was no pressure, just a crowd of KDRs in center field waiting to taunt me if the ball ended up in the dirt and the fact that all but one of the other ceremonial first pitchers was under the age of 12. I am happy say that I kept it out of the dirt and, despite the speculation of those in center field, the Mud Hens catcher told me it was strike!

The alumni event with the Toledo Mud Hens was just part of that annual celebration of Kappa Delta Rho that is the William's Leadership Academy and National Convention. Those of you who have read my post convention column in the past know how much I love this time of year. The best part for me is always the opportunity to interact with our undergraduate members. I'm not going to play spoiler here and tell you who won which awards and scholarships. But I will say this: there are some exceptional young Brothers in our Fraternity!

Over the last couple of years, the National Fraternity has worked very hard to develop a strong national identity rooted in the values of the Fraternity as expressed in our open motto Honor Super Omnia...Honor Above All Things. To that end, The Precepts of Kappa Delta Rho was introduced, the KDR Wilderness Institute began, a new national website was launched, The Path total membership development program rolled out, the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation unveiled the Centennial Recognition Program and the Fraternity will be partnering with GreekLifeEdu to provide our undergraduate members with wellness education. All of these initiatives have one goal in mind—strengthening Kappa Delta Rho by improving the quality of the “KDR experience” for all of our Brothers.

The Pathfinder has long proclaimed “KAPPA DELTA RHO IS FOR LIFE,” yet many of our alumni say, “I used to be a KDR.” In order for the Fraternity to continue making progress, more alumni support and involvement is needed. Our executive director, Joseph Rosenberg, is in the process of expanding regional volunteer opportunities through our Regional Senator Program, the National Board of Directors is always in need of alumni who would like to help out on committees, and chapters are always in need of alumni to serve on advisory boards or alumni corporations. Programs like the KDR Wilderness Institute and Williams Leadership Academy are made possible through the financial support of the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation. However, the number of contributors to the Annual Fund has decreased by 252 donors over the last three years. I know that peoples' lives are busy and I know that we have moved into some very difficult economic times, but Kappa Delta Rho is worth the investment of your time, talent, and treasure.

An investment in Kappa Delta Rho is an investment in our undergraduate members, men like Nate Sexton and Mat Taylor of the Epsilon Chapter at Franklin College. As you will read later in this issue these young men put their lives in harms way to help rescue people from the flooding that occurred in the Midwest this past June. It is the actions of Brothers like Nate, Mat, and countless other undergraduates who incorporate the spirit of Honor Super Omnia in their daily lives and strive to place Honor Above All Things that give me an indescribable return on the time, talent, and treasure I have invested in Kappa Delta Rho. If you already invest your time, talent, or treasure in Kappa Delta Rho, I thank you and hope that we can continue to rely on your loyal support. If you don't, I hope you will consider how you could best support Kappa Delta Rho within your personal circumstances and get involved accordingly.

Fraternally,

KDR LEADERSHIP ON CAMPUS

by Joseph S. Rosenberg, Executive Director

NORMALLY, THIS IS WHERE you would find the executive director's letter to the membership. I decided to make a change and use the space dedicated to my thoughts to highlight some of our amazing undergraduate leadership around our campuses. These young Brothers and their accomplishments tell the story of Kappa Delta Rho and why we should be involved financially or volunteering time and talents. It also speaks volumes on the new generation of Kappa Delta Rho Gentlemen we are recruiting into our Fraternity.

In the first installment, you will learn about four exceptional leaders on campus within Kappa Delta Rho. They are Brother Aaron Shane Henry, Zeta Beta '09; Brother Greg Siefert, Pi Alpha '09; Brother Remy Sonyi, Eta '09; and Brother Christopher Lang, Alpha Beta '09.

SHANE HENRY

As a freshman, when Brother Aaron Shane Henry, Zeta Beta '09, made the decision to rush Kappa Delta Rho, he was simply searching for a group of men to fit in with. He was unaware that in three years this group of men would play such a significant role in his college life at Tarleton State University. As a new member he was instructed that he had to be involved in a minimum of two other organizations but that a great KDR never settled for the minimum. He wanted to exceed those expectations and became involved and established himself as a leader not only in the Fraternity but also on campus. Brother Henry got involved in the typical freshmen organizations such as Freshman Representative Council, Student Programming Association, Texas Independence Celebration Committee, Texan Reps, and many other unique Tarleton organizations.

Shane has taken the Fraternity's challenge not to settle with doing the minimum and stretched it into every aspect of his college life, striving each day to live an honorable life while placing Honor Before all Things. Throughout his time at Tarleton he has been recognized as a distinguished student each academic semester, Freshman Representative of the Year, Outstanding Sophomore Participant of the year, Texan Rider (The University Mascot), W.O. and Flo Trogdon Individual Service Award Recipient, Mr. TSU, inducted into Omicron Delta Kappa leadership society and currently serving as student body president.

When asked about becoming student body president earlier this year and what it means Shane replied, "student body president has been an amazing accomplishment for both me and my chapter. Without their continued support and added campaign efforts I'm not sure that I would be sitting in office today as the 10th student body president from the Zeta Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta Rho." The hard work and high expectations set for me as a freshman in this Fraternity prepared me for the day that I would stand in front of thousands of my peers and tell them that I am ready to represent them. KDR is a Brotherhood, a family, a Fraternity but she is more than that to me. She is the expectation to do my very best and to never settle for the minimum."

According to Brother Henry the awards, honors, and organizations he was so lucky to represent would not be possible without Kappa Delta Rho and the Brothers of Zeta Beta Chapter. They are the inspiration and drive that keeps him working towards excellence. "I have received more than I could ever imagine from my Fraternity and my university," he says proudly.

CHRIS LANG

Chris Lang, Alpha Beta '09, is a busy Brother in more ways than one. He is involved on campus and in his community. Sure, it is easy to impress someone when you tell them that you are a triple major in political science, economics, and finance and that you maintain a strong 3.5 GPA. Add on the fact that he has received numerous honors including the University of Delaware Scholar Award, Legislative Essay Scholarship, and Global Scholars Award and you might think that he would be satisfied. The fact is, however, he is not content with his current achievements and continually strives to produce more accolades for himself.

Brother Lang currently serves on the Student Government Association as the city relations chair; trying to promote student influence and interest throughout the community. He also serves as a college advisor for Youth in Government and as a Model United Nations advisor. Currently, Chris serves as the vice president of external affairs on the Interfraternity Council. This summer he was the recipient of a James R. Soles Fellowship, working in Washington, D.C., for Senator Carper of Delaware. While in Washington, Brother Lang became involved with ServiceNation, an American unity coalition that tackles social challenges and gives back to the community and country. It was through this organization that he submitted a question to be asked of Sen. Barack Obama and Sen. John McCain in the ServiceNation Presidential Candidates Forum held September 11, 2008 at Columbia University in New York City. Brother Lang's question was, "What kind of initiatives will you propose in your first few months as a president to help

instill the values of service and leadership within the citizens of the United States of America?" His question was selected from numerous other entries and Chris was invited to attend the forum, which he did.

Today, Chris continues to make a name for himself and remains involved with all of these highly demanding organizations. Surprisingly enough, he is still able to maintain a healthy work ethic and be a dedicated friend, mentor, and loyal Brother of Kappa Delta Rho.

REMI SONI

Remy Soni, Eta '09, is a junior attending the University of Illinois and is currently serving as an undergraduate on the Board of Directors for the National Fraternity. When joining the chapter he wanted to be as involved as possible within the Eta Chapter. He has been actively involved in Rush, Social, and Philanthropy committees. During the past academic year he has served as senior tribune and worked hard to incorporate dynamic recruitment strategies into the recruitment efforts of the chapter. His experience as senior tribune assisted his development as a leader, not only in KDR, but on a personal level.

On campus, Remy serves as the vice president of membership development for the Interfraternity Council. Being a part of the executive board for the nation's largest Greek system has been a terrific experience and a great opportunity to network and build helpful connections. It has also allowed him to represent KDR positively and show other fraternities and sororities exactly what it means to be KDR Gentleman and leader.

According to Brother Soni his undergraduate experience at the University of Illinois would not be complete without Kappa Delta Rho. Not only has the Fraternity brought him leadership opportunities and personal growth, but has provided the opportunity to allow him to share his gifts with others on the campus as well. It is from these experiences that Remy believes that his commitment to KDR extends beyond the four years on campus and that he will have a great deal to contribute even after graduation.

GREG SEIFERT

Greg Seifert, Pi Alpha '09, enrolled at the University of Toledo as a civil engineering major in fall 2005. After his first year it became evident that civil engineering was not his calling and he changed his major to history with a minor in political science. In his freshman year he joined Pi Alpha Chapter and held many leadership positions including scholarship chair, fundraising chair, treasurer, and secretary. Greg also became a tour guide for the university and was promoted to tour guide coordinator, served as treasurer for the Inter-Fraternity Council, was a member of Habitat for Humanity, Mortar Board, Student Alumni Association, and served on the Homecoming Commission. Beginning in spring 2006, Greg joined student government as a student senator and has been involved ever since. In April 2008, Greg was elected as the student government president with more than 76 percent of the vote.

When asked how Kappa Delta Rho influenced his development as a leader Greg stated, "I feel that my time in Kappa Delta Rho has developed me into the leader I am today. I held many leadership positions and was fortunate enough to be selected to attend the Kappa Delta Rho Wilderness Institute Pilot Program in summer 2007. I really feel like that experience has changed my life."

Greg thanks his Brothers for all of their support throughout not just his campaign, but also for their love and support through his college career. He says, "My Brothers have been by my side since I pledged in fall of 2005. I've had many hardships throughout my collegiate experience; my grades suffered at first, my father passed away, but my Brothers continually lifted me up and put me into the position I am today."

During his tenure as student government president, Greg hopes to promote school pride and spirit by educating students on the traditions and history of the university; assist with university administration, faculty, staff, and students in creating student-centered policies; and enhance the community by working with the City of Toledo, neighborhood organizations, and the university family to be caring and understanding of everyone's needs and expectations.

"If it weren't for Pi Alpha, I would not be at the University of Toledo and ultimately never would have learned the leadership skills required to hold this or any other high-ranking position." Although he truly enjoys his new position, Greg appreciates being a KDR Brother more than anything.

Greg is still undecided on what he wants to do after graduation. But regardless of what he does after he leaves this position, Greg will always be a Kappa Delta Rho Gentleman. "My best times in KDR will always be the Wilderness Institute or just enjoying the company of my Brothers in my chapter and across the country. I bleed Princeton Orange and Middlebury Blue and also some Toledo blue and gold. But Honor Super Omnia will be a slogan that I will live with forever."

AS YOU CAN SEE, the banners of our Fraternity are being held high by these Brothers and many others just like them on our college campuses today. It is the hard work of these unique Brothers and the Brothers you will learn about in this new section who will secure our future on college campuses for the next 103 years.

A Heroic Effort

by Brian Graham, Epsilon '04

IN EARLY JUNE, Franklin, Indiana, and surrounding areas were hit by several storms and torrential downpours. By noon on Saturday, June 7, the streets were beginning to flood, including the chapter house basement. A couple of hours later, two Epsilon Brothers, Nate Sexton and Mat Taylor, became aware neighboring residents were stranded in their homes as flood water from Hurricane Creek continued to rise.

With the assistance of some neighbors, the men used Brother Travis Urban's canoe, which was being stored at the house, to rescue several individuals. The men walked the canoe through chest-deep water to homes, loaded up people and took them to dry land on the Franklin College campus. The college opened up the Johnson-Dietz residence hall for community members who needed a place to stay. Around 4:00 p.m. they made one last rescue attempt through the flood water.

"After the first trip, I felt a sense of obligation to these people...there was no stopping until everyone (who was willing) was safe and dry," said Taylor.

The depth of the water on their last mission neared six feet in some areas and had a very strong current. At one point they lost traction, but luckily found a fence under the water that they were able to use to push off and gain momentum. "If we didn't find the fence, we might have lost the canoe," said Sexton.

Ironically enough, Sexton and Brother Pat Yokovich flipped that very canoe a few weeks before during a canoeing trip.

When asked how he felt after that last trip through the flood water Sexton revealed that he was, "relieved more than anything—just thankful; we were pretty lucky."

During such a challenging time for the Franklin community, these men showed determination and genuine care for people at a time when it was needed most. In total, the Brothers helped rescue 11 people, including three children, one with leukemia. As Gentlemen of Kappa Delta Rho, we should be proud of their efforts.

National Fraternity Establishes the Epsilon Fund

IT SEEMS ALMOST DAILY that we hear of disaster from all over the United States and abroad. Though our hearts go out to those struck by disaster, we always feel fortunate that we or our loved ones were not affected. As many of you are probably aware, Central Indiana saw record flooding and was hit particularly hard by the June flood. The Epsilon Chapter house was one of the thousands of homes damaged by the flooding.

The waters from Hurricane Creek in Franklin, Indiana, swelled far outside its banks and crested on the first step of the Epsilon Chapter house two blocks away. While it could have been much worse, the house suffered extensive damage with more than six feet of water filling the basement. Brothers are still assessing the full costs of the flood, but they know that the water damage to the water heaters and furnace alone will cost several thousand dollars to repair or replace.

Despite the setback, the men of Epsilon Chapter rose to the challenge. Even while the waters rose, the Brothers showed themselves to be honorable young men placing the safety of others ahead of their own. Using a canoe a Brother had stored in the basement, they rescued 11 people the day of the flood, including infants, a child with leukemia, and a lady who suffered a panic attack. These men of honor and courage were lead most notably by Nate Sexton and Matt Taylor, who waded through fast moving flood currents with water up to their chests in places to rescue their neighbors. Tough times bring out the best in KDR men.

The Epsilon Chapter alumni have inquired into loans from the National Fraternity, from Franklin College, and assistance from FEMA to cover the damages. In an effort to assist our Brothers overcome the setback from this natural disaster the National Fraternity has established the Epsilon

Natural Disaster Fund with the intent to help the chapter repair the damages to the house. Any funds left over will remain in the fund to help other chapters who may find themselves in a similar situation due to a natural disaster. We understand the current economic climate is not the greatest but we hope you would consider making a five or ten dollar donation to the Epsilon Fund. This donation would be given directly to the National Fraternity and would not be tax exempt but 100 percent of the proceeds will go to the Epsilon

Chapter or chapters in the future that find themselves in a similar situation.

If you would like to donate to the Epsilon Fund please send a check or money order to the National Office at 331 South Main Street, Greensburg, PA 15601. You also can call Suzanne McFarland, office manager at (800) 536-5371, ext. 10, and generously give your donation by credit card.

RECRUITING A NEW CLASS OF KDR GENTLEMEN

by Johannes Sactotum

ON SEPTEMBER 1, 2008, Kappa Delta Rho unveiled a new thematic expansion and recruitment program. Complete with newspaper ads, handbills, Facebook groups, t-shirt designs, street teams, and mentor chapters, it includes adding a new educational leadership consultant position to the staff dedicated to expansion and recruitment. These new and revised tools will communicate the same message: Recruiting a New Class of KDR Gentlemen.

The genesis of this program began with several meetings of the national Expansion Committee at the home of Craig Gordon, Pi Alpha '87. This five-year plan calls for recolonization of old chapters and expansion to new campuses within our geographical footprint. The approach is quite simple and regional in nature. We have formed and designated mentor chapters to assist in recruiting students and establishing chapters at targeted universities and colleges. Already, we are beginning to see the success of this plan. A group of men at Temple University was recruited by Craig Dunkle, Eta Beta '07, who transferred to Temple from West Chester University. Although in the early stages, we hope to have an official Group of Intent on the campus by the end of spring 2009. Brother Stephen Brim, Zeta Beta '07, transferred from Tarleton State University to the University of Texas at Arlington and is beginning to form a group on that campus as well.

Currently, we have three mentor chapters in operation and they are the Pi Alpha Chapter (University of Toledo) that is beginning efforts at Cleveland State University and our Alpha Beta Chapter (University of Delaware) and Gamma Gamma Chapter (York College of Pennsylvania) co-mentoring our Group of Intent at McDaniel College in Westminster, Maryland. Brother Brian O'Malley, Pi Alpha '09, is heading up the efforts of the undergraduates at Pi Alpha and he also devised the concept of KDR street teams, which we are excited to roll out later this fall at Cleveland State. At McDaniel our 13 new members, under the direction of Greg Boyd, are being mentored by two great chapters and an expansion team comprised of National Staff and local Brothers volunteering their time to assist these ambitious men in their quest to become Brothers of Kappa Delta Rho. The men at McDaniel are doing spectacular and have already made a positive impact on the campus, have obtained acceptance from the IFC, and have secured a position on the IFC Executive Board. I have no doubt they will meet their goals by the end of spring 2009 and will be petitioning for their charter at the National Convention next August.

As you can imagine, with such an intense effort on expansion there will be a significant opportunity for education on KDR's values and policies. Jeff Howard, Tau Beta '97, and vice president for education, along with the Education Committee, have been hard at work providing the tools and resources for these new KDR Gentlemen. This semester, KDR rolled out The Path, our new member education program. It is PowerPoint based and was developed and geared for the learning styles of today's students. The Pathfinder is used as a companion to the new program. In addition to The Path, the National Fraternity signed a contract with Outside the Classroom to provide the educational program GreekLifeEdu to our Brotherhood. KDR is one of very few fraternal organizations providing this cutting-edge program to her members.

GreekLifeEdu will provide our undergraduate Brothers nonopinionated, science-based content in an easily accessible, online format. It contains surveys, knowledge tests, and interactive exercises, which will create a highly engaging experience for our Brothers. The course features real-life student success stories that encourage participants to adopt positive behaviors and build self-efficacy, scenarios to help Brothers practice and reinforce these new behaviors and to develop appropriate responses on what they would do or how they would handle a situation. Additionally, the program will reinforce KDR specific resources, such as policies, procedures, and key staff contacts to our undergraduate membership.

In order to continue this momentum we need the participation and assistance of each and every Brother. Make a donation this year and every year to the KDR Foundation. Your gifts to the Annual Fund and/or campaigns like the Centennial Recognition Program (CRP) ensure that the financial support is in place to make KDR's goals into realities. Donate your time, which is an equally valuable resource for KDR and her future. Commit time to be active with or to reestablish alumni associations at our closed chapters so we can successfully recolonize. Be a part of the expansion committee, mentor an undergraduate Brother, or engage and advise a chapter. Together we will build a strong vibrant national organization comprised of more than 70 active chapters. To do so, we will need your partnership and active participation.

In antiquity all roads led to Rome. So, on the college campuses where KDR is active, let us make it our goal, individually and collectively, to have all roads lead to KDR and the values that she embodies.

97th National Convention Was a GRANDSLAM!

FROM AUGUST 7 TO AUGUST 10, 2008, the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Rho held its 97th National Convention and Elmon M. Williams Leadership Academy in Toledo, Ohio. The theme for this year's convention and leadership academy was "Swinging for the Future" and it could not have been more appropriate. At the National Convention we unveiled the new education program The Path for our new members, the establishment of an alumni track of educational programs at the leadership academy, the establishment of a new national award, The Red Rose Award, the newly improved National Fraternity website and inducted into our Brotherhood an Honorary Brother who epitomizes Honor Super Omnia on the gridiron and in society.

The Elmon M. Williams Leadership Academy was a hit. We had more than 105 undergraduate Brothers with 22 of them being consuls of chapters stepping up to bat in Toledo to gain and improve their knowledge base in order to improve themselves and their chapters. Calling the ball and strikes and facilitating the program for the National Fraternity this year were Scott Bradley, Zeta Beta '99; Matthew Lenno, Alpha Beta '95; Peter Tartaro, Lambda Beta '00; Matthew Tessier, Omega Alpha '93; Joseph Rees, Nu '01; and Jonathan Boyle, Phi Beta '06. The academy curriculum was developed upon the concepts found in the leadership book "The Radical Leap" by Steve Farber.

Before coming to Toledo, every academy participant was mailed a copy of the book to read. In an effort to promote stronger relationships within our various conclave areas, the undergraduates were placed into four dynamic leadership regional teams led by a facilitator. During the academy they room, learn, and eat together with Brothers from their conclave area. In addition to these changes within the confines of our academy stadium we added an alumni track with programs presented by nationally known speakers in areas of risk management, financial management, house management, communication, and advising college students. We are looking forward to continuing this format next year in Roanoke, Virginia, at the 98th National Convention and Elmon M. Williams Leadership Academy from August 6 to August 9, 2009.

Like the Philadelphia Phillies, the National Fraternity of Kappa Delta Rho at the National Convention underwent an appearance change and launched the new image of KDR on the Internet. The Fraternity partnered with Amixa, LLC and completely overhauled the look and the capabilities of our website and the resources provided to our undergraduates and alumni members. The appearance was changed to bring back into focus our identity, which is one of Roman origins but at the same time provide a modern look with the addition of a video welcome, news release section on the front page, and most important, a Brother's Only Section with resources for undergraduates and alumni. Some of the items coming to that section in the future are a discussion board, google map indicating other Brothers who live in the same zip code area and much, much more.

At the mid-year meeting of the National Board of Directors, the leadership of the Fraternity voted on resurrecting the old sweetheart award that was given out years ago to a National Sweetheart. The award was renamed The Red Rose Award and was updated to fit a 21st century KDR. The recipient could be either a man or a woman who is not a Brother and who has significantly contributed to the advancement of Kappa Delta Rho. The inaugural award was given out this year at the Ordo Honoris Banquet to the ultimate designated hitter of Kappa Delta Rho, Suzanne McFarland who has served faithfully and tirelessly as the office manager of Kappa Delta Rho for more than 25 years. When presenting the award Executive Director Joseph Rosenberg remarked "it is always comforting knowing no matter how hard life was on campus as an undergraduate or an alumnus there is a comforting fact that one could call (800)-536- 5371, ext. 10, and hear the voice of our Kappa Delta Rho mom."

In coordination with the National Convention and the 25th Anniversary of the Pi Alpha Chapter, the Brothers initiated Chuck Ealey into our Brotherhood. Chuck is a 1971 graduate of the University of Toledo. Chuck, and his wife Sherry, currently reside in Toronto where Chuck is a regional director for a financial services firm and is deeply involved in the community. Here are some of the other great accomplishments Chuck achieved at the University of Toledo:

Suzanne McFarland, the inaugural recipient of The Red Rose award, having the award presented to her by National President Shawn Hoke, Phi Alpha '95.

- Held the amateur football record for QB with the most consecutive wins (18-0) in high school and (35-0) in college for a combined record of (53-0).
- Was MVP of the Mid-American Conference for three consecutive years and won three consecutive Division IA bowl games.
- Finished 8th in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1972.
- Was selected First Team All-American by the Football News, yet went undrafted by the NFL.

Despite going undrafted in the 1972 NFL draft, Chuck demonstrated his undefeated spirit and left the United States for Canada so that he could live the American dream of playing professional football as a quarterback. In 1972 Chuck was named CFL Rookie of the Year and led the Hamilton Tiger Cats to The Grey Cup Championship where he was selected as the Grey Cup MVP.

Chuck exemplifies the kind of man Kappa Delta Rho has attracted across the ages. Chuck has lived his life with honor and integrity and continues to showcase his role model characteristics as a successful businessman, philanthropist, father, grandfather, and devoted husband. At the Ordo Honoris Banquet, Brother Ealey was introduced to the Brotherhood in attendance by Brother Rick Longenecker, Pi Alpha '86, and presented with his Brother plaque by National President Shawn Hoke, Phi Alpha '95.

As you can see, the 97th National Convention and Elmon M. Williams Leadership Academy was truly a great day at the ball park and the Brotherhood smacked a grand slam and cleared the bases for another exciting year within Kappa Delta Rho.

EXPANSION NEWS

MCDANIEL COLLEGE is the site of the newest expansion effort. Thirteen Brothers comprise the Group of Intent (GOI). Ten of these Brothers are from the original local chapter, Chi Delta Upsilon, which had been in existence since 1988. The band of Brothers decided to make the transition to a national organization in order to have a more positive impact on campus and to be able to be part of a larger organization. When the group first began to form in 1988, they first chose Kappa Delta Rho, but due to other factors they finally settled on Delta Upsilon. This past spring, when debating what national fraternity to choose, Kappa Delta Rho was an obvious choice. After looking into many options, the Brothers decided that Kappa Delta Rho would best fit their group of Brothers.

The McDaniel GOI consul is junior Greg Boyd who is majoring in communication with a minor in film. He is an avid sports fan and plays football and lacrosse. The group on campus has a tradition of attracting a wide array of students, especially among the athletes of campus. Brothers are also involved in EAC, the Honor Society, Student Government Association, and the TV Club. Besides that, the average brother just enjoys sports, parties, intelligent conversation, and girls. All of the Brothers are a very close-knit group of friends, all of them living together in either facilities off campus or in residence halls on campus. We look forward to completing The Path this semester and begin preparing for first year recruitment during the spring semester. Our goal is to gain Provisional Chapter status by February and be prepared to petition for our charter at the National Convention in Roanoke on August 5, 2009. We look forward to expanding our numbers and bringing more Gentlemen into our close group of friends and into the Brotherhood.

McDaniel has a well-established Greek community. There are three sororities and five fraternities currently on campus. With just over, 1600 undergraduate students on campus, more than 12 percent are apart of Greek life. The Greek GPA is well above the campus average, making fraternities and sororities life a positive aspect of campus life.

We have a lot to do in order to reach the goals we set for ourselves at the end of last school year, but we look forward to the challenge. We believe that Kappa Delta Rho will really benefit McDaniel College because it will give students interested in Greek life an option that is focused on the values of being a Gentlemen and honor. We are confident that we can really do some good and benefit not only the college, but the community as well. We look forward to making some strong relationships within Kappa Delta Rho from Brothers who live in our region.

At this time, the Brothers at McDaniel College are working hard to recruit new members for future pledge classes. Brothers, if you know of any men attending McDaniel College, please direct them home to us. We would be happy to make room for them in our growing chapter. We are also working on setting up fundraising projects as well as community service projects and plan to have them posted on the national website.

KAPPA DELTA RHO

Here's to the boys of KDR
Lessons of pledgship have taken us far.
We learned to take and learned to give
For such is the world in which we live.

Proud of our bond of Brotherhood,
Helping one another whenever we could.
We shared our fun as buddies do-
When one was cut – we bled some too.

Hitting the books and sharing a joke,
Full of hope but usually broke.
We never regretted the time we paid
For the knowledge gained and friendships made.

We graduated to chase our dream
Of power and wealth and self esteem;
Put our diploma up for hire-
Out of the skillet – into the fire.

We had our share of pride and pain;
Sometimes the rainbow –sometimes the rain.
Friends were lost along the way
But never the memories of yesterday.

Now we're older and wiser, true
Reminiscing the things we used to do.
The years have flown but here we are-Still Proud to be Brothers of KDR.

103 Things Every KDR Gentleman Should Know

by Jeffrey S. Howard, Vice President of Education

WHETHER OUR THOUSANDS OF ALUMNI realize it or not, they are currently serving as a “Big Brother” to hundreds of undergraduate KDR Brothers at any given time. How good a job are you doing? When today’s KDR alumni Brothers were in college, we stood on the shoulders of those who came before us, and they on the shoulders of those who came before them, back to Middlebury and our ten founding fathers.

Mentoring is about encouraging, developing, challenging, and equipping our undergraduate Brothers for the future. Although the opportunity for every KDR to come together is nearly impossible, we are linked through our ritual and KDR experience for life. Our newest Brothers can learn a great deal from our alumni. Now alumni can “virtually mentor” undergraduate Brothers through wisdom, advice, tips, hints, and shared experiences from the comfort of their own home. This is your chance to give back to KDR and directly to our newest and youngest members simply by sharing your thoughts and advice.

In celebration of our first 103 years, we are asking for your input on 103 Things Every KDR Gentleman Should Know. Your responses may be light or serious, short or long; the most important thing is that you share them. Here are some suggested areas to help get you started.

- If you could go back and be an undergraduate for a day what are some things you have learned or experienced that would help you succeed and thrive the most in a given situation?

- Quotes that inspire me/quotes to live by.
- How you incorporate KDR ritual into your daily life.
- What do you wish you had known when you were an undergraduate?
- If given the opportunity to address the entire undergraduate Brotherhood, what would you want to say and share?
- A book, movie, etc. that is not to be missed.
- Perhaps some KDR alumnus shared some advice or experience with you that made a significant impact on you and you would like to pass it along.
- The one dish you should be able to prepare.
- Interview tips you only learn from experience.
- Tips on dressing for success.
- Things every KDR should be able to do.
- Places every KDR should visit and why.

Information will be compiled and shared in a future edition of the Quill & Scroll and will be developed into a phase for The Path. Share your thoughts by accessing an on-line submission tool via the KDR website now through December 31, 2008 and looking for the “103 Things” logo.

From the Foundation President

Brothers,

Everything you read in the Quill & Scroll exemplifies our Foundation's tag line, "Investing in the lives of students." Together, we can have a profound impact on the educational experience of our members. That impact can come in the form of financial support through scholarships, life-changing opportunities through programs like the Wilderness Institute, or direct support and intervention by our highly dedicated staff to support existing chapters and recolonize closed chapters.

Each year I'm humbled and grateful to acknowledge the hundreds of dedicated Brothers who have given back to KDR. We each give for our own reasons, but from the countless conversations I've had with fellow Brothers, we all have one thing in common...we got a lot out of our experience in KDR and we want that same experience to be there for our children and grandchildren.

I hope you find the articles and information about the impact our Foundation is having on our great Fraternity interesting and informative. There is so much more we could and should be doing and, with your help, we will continue to offer life-changing experiences to our members.

Fraternally,
Michael Mueller, Eta '95
President
Kappa Delta Rho Foundation

HERITAGE SOCIETY

The Heritage Society is Kappa Delta Rho's recognition society to acknowledge and thank those Brothers and friends who have included the Kappa Delta Rho Foundation in their estate plans. Planned giving is an important means by which our Brothers and friends can plan for the future of our Fraternity.

The easiest and least expensive way to include the Foundation in your estate plans is to name the Foundation as a beneficiary on a life insurance policy or a retirement account or IRA. This kind of planned gift just requires you to complete a change of beneficiary form. Another common way to include the Foundation in your estate plans is to name the Foundation as a beneficiary in your will or trust.

The language you or your advisor would need when naming your beneficiary is "The Kappa Delta Rho Foundation, located in Greensburg Pennsylvania, whose tax ID number is 25-1449252."

To discuss various options or how to accomplish a certain goal, such as endowing a program or scholarship, contact Bill Paris, Eta '87, director of development, at foundation@kdr.com or call (800) 536-5371.

CENTENNIAL RECOGNITION PROGRAM

BROTHERS, we're honored to have been asked by our fellow trustees to spearhead the most important committee and project in the history of our Fraternity, the steering committee for the Centennial Recognition (CRP) Campaign.

We're humbled to join Matt Leiphart, Iota '92, who took an early leadership role in getting us to where we are today, more than half way to our goal of raising $2.5 million to endow and expand our leadership programs and chapter support services. The sum of $2.5 million is sufficient to assure annual income to support the National Office and free National Staff from having to spend time and energy on fundraising, allowing them to focus exclusively on supporting the chapters, expanding the programs that educate undergraduates and provide scholarships, and growing our Fraternity on campuses where interest has been expressed to become a KDR chapter.

We have a big challenge in front of us. Over the next 16 months, countless volunteers and leaders will be fanning out to contact classmates, pledge Brothers, and friends to share the vision of the future of KDR the way it can be.

To succeed will take all of us. We hope you're as excited as we are when you look at the programs and opportunities outlined here in the Quill & Scroll. Programs like the Wilderness Institute and the New Member Academic Achievement Scholarship are a direct result of the progress we've made to date.

These programs directly impact countless numbers of our undergraduate Brothers each year. And, to many of you, most importantly, they impact your chapter. Whether it's branding and creating a competitive image or whether it's the ability to recruit and retain members with the support of the New Member Academic Achievement Scholarship, these programs are directly impacting the success of each of our chapters!

Let's cut to the chase as well. Most of us have the strongest tie to our chapters. That's natural! When our chapters close or are struggling we look to the National Fraternity to send staff and volunteers to support or reopen our chapter. That takes resources!

Brothers, our Fraternity is embarking on a multi-year expansion program to reopen closed chapters, expand to new campuses, and strengthen existing chapters. Staff and volunteers work virtually around the clock, supporting and strengthening our Fraternity. Isn't it time we provided the resources to make their job easier and the product better? Bringing Honor Above All (Honor Super Omnia) to the undergraduates on campus is an appropriate and valuable endeavor...it was good for us, it will be good for them. Help us allow KDR and Greek life to remain an important part of the college experience.

Below you'll see the list of Brothers who've made a commitment to the Centennial Recognition Program (CRP) Campaign. You can check out the Centennial Wall of Honor on the web at: www.kdrfoundation.org. Join us! Make a pledge today to add your name to the wall. If you're willing to help contact and inspire classmates to encourage them to be part of the future of KDR, contact Mark West, Upsilon Alpha '88; mshelbyw@yahoo.com or Jim Hubbard, Psi '66; jhubbard3727@charter.net.

SO YOU WANT TO PARTY!

by Gerald Stebbins, Vice President of Alumni Affairs

ALUMNI EVENTS CAN BE MAGICAL. There is a tremendous synergy and excitement at homecoming when actives meet "legends" at the house or when getting together to reacquaint themselves with longtime friends and Brothers at the annual alumni event.

So it's time to roll out the keg, throw some food on the grill, tailgate, camp out, or throw the pig on the spit. WHOA! If your alumni event sounds anything like this, you MUST read the rest of this article and, if it does not sound like this, you may be on the right track but it never hurts to get caught up on the latest policies. The policies on hosting events can be easy to follow. Things have changed considerably since the '50s, '70s, and even the '90s.

FACT or FICTION: We are all of legal age so we can consume alcohol anyway we wish?

FICTION: The national policies on social host and alcohol use at social events are as relevant for alumni events as they are for the undergraduates. This means for all alumni events, you must follow the same policies set forth by the National Fraternity and the Fraternity Insurance Programming Group. This means NO KEGS or open bars. All events held at restaurants and hotels must be cash bar. Individuals who are not of legal age are not permitted to consume, possess, or transport alcohol. Events held through third-party vendorship are still the preferred method of hosting an event. What does that mean? Use a licensed restaurant or hotel to supervise your alumni event. You should provide nonsalty foods, other drink alternatives to alcohol, and monitors to assess the safety of the guests. This is where the third-party vendor is especially helpful. They have a duty to "shut off" individuals they deem to have consumed too much. This also doesn't make you (the possible host) the bad guy.

FACT or FICTION: Collecting for one price is okay, especially if we can get a better deal on food and alcohol?

FICTION: If you collect for the event, you may pay for meals, appetizers, rental fees, and nonalcohol related drinks. Never include the cost for alcohol in any collection of fees. Also, if a drink special is provided, it cannot be advertised as the KDR HAPPY HOUR or KDR CRUSH special drink for the guests. However, if a bar is offering a special drink special for all patrons at the bar, KDRs are able to participate in those specials so long as they individually purchase their own alcohol.

FACT or FICTION: An alumnus will be turned off and not attend an event if they have to follow all these rules.

TRICK QUESTION: The answer is "maybe." Hopefully, you can explain that in order to protect the chapter, the National Fraternity, the Alumni Corporation or Association, and potentially yourself, these rules must be followed. I have hosted numerous events for KDR across the country and have yet had an alumnus be upset or angry when I explained the expectation of dividing the cost of the evening. Be forthright and immediate with the ground rules to avoid any confusion.

FACT or FICTION: What can anyone do to me? I am an alumnus and I can buy a keg if I wish for the chapter or alumni at homecoming!

FICTION: First, the chapter could be held accountable if this occurs at a KDR event either at the house, off site, or at a tailgate. Additionally, the college or university may hold the chapter accountable. My advice, donate money towards a scholarship that could truly assist the chapter or alumni. Make a lasting and important change in someone's life for the positive and protect the chapter. If another alumnus decides to bring a keg, as an alumnus, please step in to assist the chapter president in removing the keg or mass quantity of alcohol. They need your help to follow the policies particularly if another alumnus is involved.

Visit the KDR website for more information or advice on hosting alumni events. Also, send all local chapter, regional, and national alumni events you are hosting. We will place them on the website and provide guidance in areas where you may have questions. Be safe and follow these rules and regulations. Check the website for more information on social host policies for everyone's safety and sake.

Also, if your Alumni Association or Corporation has event planned e-mail us at alumni@kdr.com and will post on the new National Website calendar.*

Dear Brothers:

We are required by our insurance carrier to remind and inform our membership of the National Fraternity's risk management policies at least once a year. To assist you in ensuring our alumni and undergraduate events are facilitated per our insurance policies, we have provided them below for you to review. If you have any questions or concerns in the implementation of these policies at our events, please do not hesitate to contact the National Office at 1-800-536-5371, ext. 12, or Joseph S. Rosenberg, executive director, at 412-953-6482.

Such activities may include but are not limited to the following: use of alcohol, paddling in any form, creation of excessive fatigue, physical and psychological shocks, quests, treasure hunts, scavenger hunts, road trips or any other such activities carried on outside or inside of the confines of the chapter house; wearing of public apparel which is conspicuous and not normally in good taste, engaging in public stunts and buffoonery, morally degrading or humiliating games and activities, and any other activities which are not consistent with academic achievement, fraternal law, ritual or policy or the regulations and policies of the educational institution or applicable state law."

CHAPTER NEWS

Beta Chapter (Cornell University)

Beta Chapter is happy to report that we have four new pledges this semester. This is the largest fall pledge class we have had in years. Most of our recent alumni cannot think of a year when we had more than three pledges in the fall. They are all fine young men and our teachings and values will help form them into great leaders of tomorrow. Classes are in full swing now and our Brothers are settled in. Our house is only one member shy of full capacity for live-ins which is a marked improvement over the half empty house we had last year. A number of our Brothers are starting to take an active role in IFC by joining committees and helping to organize rush for the entire fraternity system. Most importantly, our chapter just paid off a longstanding debt of more than $20,000 to our corporation board. This is a debt that our current members inherited when joining, and was a dark cloud hanging over our heads that we are glad to see go. In alumni news we just held a Homecoming weekend where we generated some much appreciated donations and Cornell Big Red took down the Yale Bulldogs 17-14 to win the football game. We look forward to the rest of this semester and into next semester where we plan on getting as many new members as we can so that our chapter will grow and prosper.

Epsilon Chapter (Franklin College)

The men of Epsilon Chapter ended the previous school year on a high note. We were named Fraternity Chapter of the Year at Franklin College. In addition, we also won awards for Best Campus Involvement, Highest Fraternity Grade Point Average, and Best New Member Education Program. We began to gear up for this school year starting with the National Convention. Three of our Brothers attended and brought back many good ideas and insights concerning recruitment, risk management, and our ritual. Our chapter also won awards for Outstanding Newsletter and Faculty Relations.

This school year started off well with our annual Back-to-School Raffle. We raffled off a gift certificate to the Cheesecake Factory and were able to raise more than $200 for The Boys and Girls Club of Franklin. Formal recruitment was a big success for our chapter as well. Thanks to a solid recruitment effort, nine new men have joined our chapter as pledges of the Fraternity. We are looking forward to teaching them the history and values of our Fraternity over the course of their new member education program.

Additional upcoming events for our chapter include our Homecoming Pancake Breakfast and annual Dance-A-Thon competition. As a chapter we are excited for the year to come and are committed to maintaining our standard of excellence.

*Epsilon Brothers assist flood victims.

Zeta Chapter (Pennsylvania State University)

Zeta Chapter has been undergoing house renovations and will hopefully be moving into the new house before the semester ends. Our renovations include redoing the entire second and third floors including 13 singles all with their own bathroom. Each room will have its own heating and cooling system along with a microwave and personal refrigerators. Currently, the chapter is living in three other fraternity houses until renovations are completed but we are still involved in all Greek events. We have signed up for IM football and are hoping to go to the championship this year.

Eta Chapter (University of Illinois)

After a busy spring semester, summer offered a much needed break. Most importantly, summer meant going to the National Convention in Toledo, Ohio. The chapter sent seven undergraduates and met three alumni in Toledo, making the convention feel like home. While there, we were able to meet and network with the other KDRs from all across the country. One of the many rewarding things that we took away from convention was the goal to interact more with the other chapters in our region. Turning words into action, the men of the Upsilon Alpha Chapter at St. Louis University are visiting us soon, as well as the men from Nu at Indiana University later this semester. Also, many of us in the region are planning a big trip to the Upsilon Alpha Chapter to work with our Brothers and help in any way we can.

National Convention was not only rewarding for all the tremendous learning experiences gained, but also for the awards received at the Scholarship Luncheon and the Ordo Honoris Banquet. The men of Eta are truly grateful to be the recipients of nine scholastic awards and 10 outstanding achievement awards including the Grand Consul Award for Chapter of the Year. Bringing all those awards home to our chapter served as proof that we do great things and as motivation to continue to work hard every day.

With the start of a new semester rush is on everyone's mind and thanks to the National Convention we all learned creative new ways to recruit. Things have been going very well so far and we have high hopes for a large fall pledge class. Also, our philanthropy soccer tournament will be bigger and better this year. We have switched from co-hosting it with ADPi to Alpha Phi, an organization that we have always held in high regard and will help make the tournament fun and exciting.

Finally, the Eta Brothers and alumni are working together to plan a spectacular Homecoming since it will be the last one before the house is closed for renovations next summer. We are also working together to raise money for the project which has a $1.5 million budget. In summary, this semester we are striving to capitalize on the momentum generated last semester and this summer to continue to do great things. We hope to be back at National Convention next year.

Theta Chapter (Purdue University)

At the Theta Chapter, the morale and excitement for the Fraternity is very high, as we continue to see the results of our hard work.

The renovations on the house look breathtaking. The Theta Foundation put a great deal of time and money into restoring the house over the summer. Our deepest thanks go out to all Brothers involved. More work is being planned as the funding becomes available. The chapter now has 31 Brothers who are proud to live in our beautiful home! The Brothers welcome all alumni to stop by for a look around.

Recruitment started off well and we inducted 11 outstanding men into pledgship at the beginning of the semester. We hope that continuous recruitment will yield another six men before the end of the semester. These individuals have already shown dedication to the chapter and will be a great addition to our ranks.

Brothers of Theta Chapter.

The chapter was proud to have earned awards from the National Convention including first place in public relations, first place in social service, and second place in recruitment. Purdue University also recognized the chapter with their "most improved GPA" award.

The Brothers will most likely race a grand prix car this year and we are looking forward to taking part in that tradition. We are also looking forward to our annual Brotherhood retreat in mid-October where we paintball and camp together. We are proud of our accomplishments and pleased with the current state of the chapter. As always, we continue to aim higher and think of more ways to improve our Fraternity.

Iota Chapter (Bucknell University)

After a very successful spring semester, the Brothers have moved back into their residence on Fraternity Road. From the work put in last semester, we are able to boast having currently produced the most community service and philanthropy dollars per member and most educational and university-sponsored events attended at Bucknell University. Under the same leadership, save Chris Collier who is taking over as senior tribune for Nick Donahue, we plan to dive head on into another great semester. With the help of the alumni and the National Staff, the Brothers expect to make positive strides on this campus.

This year we experienced one of our strongest recruitment periods thanks to the hard work and efforts of Nick Donahue. With 18 pledges to start with, Junior Tribune Chris Dunne will be running his second course of The Path. As the future of the Fraternity, the new members will become both acclimated to Greek life at Bucknell and aware of the standards of the Fraternity. They will actively take part in our social and service functions and continually learn what KDR Brotherhood is really about.

CHAPTER NEWS

Of course, the Brothers will continue to rack up more community service hours, putting a greater focus on helping out with children in the local community. Their philanthropy endeavors will follow the same principle. The Brothers plan to focus their efforts on KDR Kids. They will be coaching athletic teams in the community as well as running after-school sports programs at the Milton YMCA. Under Community Service Chair Phil Nazareus and Philanthropy Chair Nick Doyle, our chapter plans to put up another semester of impressive statistics. The Brothers look forward to making a lasting impression on this campus and establishing a precedent for years to come.

Lambda Chapter (University of California at Berkeley)

Our vision is to become the best fraternity at Berkeley in five years, especially in Brotherhood quality, social service, and academics this year. Lambda Chapter is determined to expand, and we will do so aggressively. For the first time, we implemented The Path, having two pledge classes instead of one. It may be challenging at first, but we have full confidence in the system, and together we will overcome any obstacles to achieve our goals. Not only have we been keeping busy carefully selecting the crème of the crop to be a part of our family, we have also been planning on better ways to serve our surrounding community. While continuing what we did last year (which we earned us second place for the Edward E. Kimball Award for Outstanding Social Service), the focus this year is to take the leadership role in the Greek philanthropic effort at Berkeley. In addition, led by Brother Kia Hamzelou, we are creating the first sustainability program for fraternities. We will organize a recycling effort amongst the Greek community promoting unity and a cleaner Earth. We won many awards from a successful semester last year. They included Award for Scholastic Achievement, Edward E. Kimball Award for Outstanding Social Service, Most Improved GPA (at Berkeley, 3.23 average), and most importantly, Most Improved Chapter. Instead of being complacent, these accomplishments further fueled our thirst for perfection. Our Chapter is at the dawn of a new Golden Age. We will continue to shape scholars into extraordinary leaders and, at the same time, we aim towards becoming the next Chapter of the Year, to become instrumental in the great westward expansion of KDR.

Rho Chapter (Lafayette College)

The Brothers of the Rho Chapter are getting ready for a very exciting fall semester. Our outstanding reputation made it possible for us to initiate 24 new members this fall who we are certain will carry on our proud traditions and commitment to academics, philanthropy, and athletics. Last semester, the chapter earned a 3.39 average GPA, beating out all other Lafayette fraternities and the average GPA of all other Greek organizations and all men and women at Lafayette College. This year we will also continue to host several successful philanthropy events that benefit the Children's Home of Easton, Pennsylvania. These events include the annual KKG & KDR Carwash with Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, the Flap Jack Attack with Tri Delta Sorority, and Dance Marathon with Pi Beta Phi Sorority. Everyone is already involved in planning these events to increase our annual charitable donations in order to help troubled youths from around the Lehigh Valley. In recognition of our chapter's achievements and hard work, the chapter was awarded as having the most outstanding intramural sports, campus involvement, and philanthropy at National Convention.

Alpha Alpha Chapter (Lock Haven University)

So far, the Alpha Alpha Chapter has been busy keeping up its exceptional community service. On Labor Day, we helped the Lock Haven Fire Company with their Regatta as we always do. At the beginning of October Brother Neal Newmark participated in the Megatransect, which is a 25-mile run/trail hike. Neal raised money to start a drug education program in memory of Brother Ed Wascavage who passed away this summer. During Halloween we will hold our second annual Haunted House for the United Way. The haunted house allows people from all over town to tour our house that has been transformed into a haunted mansion. The chapter is working hard on rush events and hopes to have a very large pledge class in the spring semester. We now have two Executive Board members in Lock Haven's Student Cooperative Council. Andres Mendoza serves as the vice president and Daniel Blackmore serves as speaker of the senate. This year we are celebrating our 50th Anniversary and are very much looking forward to meeting many founding members as they will be visiting the chapter house for the first time in many years.

Iota Alpha Chapter (University of Pittsburgh, Johnstown)

The Iota Alpha Chapter has been very active on campus this fall. We are doing a great job attracting incoming freshman and upperclassman to our organization and house. We have three intramural teams in which we encourage not just KDR Brothers to join, but other students on campus as well. With us participating in flag football, softball, and soccer, we are getting a wide variety of potential members to join our teams and become interested in possibly joining our Fraternity. Intramurals are one of our most beneficial ways of recruiting new members, but we've also done well with getting men to come to the house for Steelers games and cookouts on the weekends. Our intramural teams have been very successful so far going unbeaten in flag football, and soccer. We are on our way to another great season in each of the two sports. It's also a good way for all of us to get together and have a good time, and build rivalries amongst the other fraternities and houses on campus.

This fall we adopted a highway where we all get together on the weekend and pick up trash along Route 219 and clean up all garbage next to the road. We usually do this a couple times a semester while the weather is still nice and the ground isn't covered with snow. Our major community service event is held in the spring when we hold our sixth Annual Autism Walk, which is held at the track next to campus. The success of our walk is growing year by year and is attracting families to come out and support our cause. In the past we have had alumni come back to campus for the weekend and attend our Autism Walk. We have appreciated all the support from our alumni and encourage them to come visit more often.

Nu Alpha Chapter (Columbia University)

The Nu Alpha Chapter is off to a strong start this semester. We finally cleared all of our debt and we now have a budget for the first time. We have already scheduled a few community service events, such as a park clean up with a local sorority and a clothing drive. We are starting to organize for Homecoming on October 4 and we have our first social event, a mixer with the Theta Sorority on September 26. We have a little more than 10 potential new members and we plan to extend bids out to them in the next two weeks. Niko Scott, '10 is making a KDR banner that will hang outside of our brownstone in order to promote campus awareness of Kappa Delta Rho. We look forward to adding new members this year and to the regional conclave being held at Cornell.

Pi Alpha Chapter (University of Toledo)

The semester is off to a promising start for the Pi Alpha Chapter. It has made progress during rush and is continuing to improve as a chapter. We have set the goal for this year to become a larger chapter.

The big story is our stunning success during rush. Alumni Advisor Craig Gordan worked hand in hand with our Executive Board and our chapter to make changes in our rush techniques. The chapter appealed to men looking to get involved. We searched for men who were above average; men that are promising athletes, student government members, or scholastic achievers. We are proud of our new pledge class of 19 quality men. Strikingly, our new pledge class, Epsilon Beta, has a 3.2 grade point average. It should be noted that this GPA is 25 percent above the all men's average GPA.

The chapter is looking to improve its philanthropic involvement this semester. We are currently organizing a lasting volunteer-based relationship with both The Toledo Day Nursery and The Toledo YMCA. We are confident that we will be able to give back to the community more effectively by starting a tradition of volunteering at these locations. Also new this fall, the Brothers wrote letters and delivered flowers to every sorority on campus. We asked if they needed help in any of their philanthropy events or fundraisers. We expect to have quite a positive impact in Toledo by spring 2009.

Lastly, we would like to thank everyone who participated in National Convention in August. We were honored to host the convention and proud of our awards we received. Pi Alpha won awards for Scholastic Achievement, Outstanding Recruitment, and Alumni Relations.

Tau Alpha Chapter (Radford University)

The Brothers at the Tau Alpha Chapter are very excited about the upcoming school year. We have a lot of events planned for this semester. We have recruited four excellent men who make up our Theta Beta Pledge Class and will be fine additions to our chapter. We are hoping to double the recruitment for the fall and really kick our numbers through the roof.

CHAPTER NEWS

Fundraising is our primary focus and we are doing great things. Besides working the Virginia Tech football games, we are also attending the NASCAR race at the Martinsville Speedway on October 17. We are hosting an Alumni Weekend October 10-12 and have great plans for an Alumni Weekend in February. If there are any alumni who do not have a way of contacting our chapter, feel free to grab one of the active Brother's e-mail addresses on the national KDR website and drop us a line. We are looking for a huge turnout this year. We are also planning a Parents Weekend and possibly bringing back the tradition of Dad's Day.

The Brothers here are full of ambition and hopefully we can make next semester just as good as this one!

Psi Alpha Chapter (Pennsylvania State University at College of Behrend)

The life of Kappa Delta Rho at Behrend has become a truly great experience for those of us at the Psi Alpha Chapter. After the reorganization of our chapter last semester, we've seen a large interest from other men on campus to involve themselves with an organization that is a bit fresh and different. We've recruited six men for the fall semester, doubling our size. We also have a large group of interested men for the coming spring semester.

Brothers of Psi Alpha Chapter.

Our chapter is very involved in other facets of student life. Collectively, our membership includes five executive members of the campus's entertainment board, the Student Government vice president, two Student Government senators, the college's orientation director, seven members of the orientation staff, and the campus's former THON director, a cause we've become very involved in. We also are lucky to have Brother Ammar Hussein, an alumni from Edinboro University, working at the campus as a residence coordinator to help us get things restarted.

Alpha Beta Chapter (University of Delaware)

The Alpha Beta Chapter is starting the 2008-2009 year off with a bang. We have maintained strong ties with our campus and community and are expecting a great recruitment period for the fall. Our chapter is very strong. We will, however, be graduating 15 members in May. That said, we have high aspirations for the coming rush and plan to mix it with innovative and fun events. The chapter has remained active in community events most recently attending numerous fundraisers endorsed by other Greek organizations. We have been working closely with IFC and the university to help shape Greek life on our campus. The chapter is proud to announce receiving two awards at the National Convention which included second place for Outstanding Website Design and Outstanding Recruitment Award. Recently, several members of our chapter and one alumnus attended McDaniel College to assist and congratulate the men who have chosen to become Brothers of Kappa Delta Rho. This is a great honor for our chapter.

Gamma Beta Provisional Chapter (Virginia Tech University)

The Virginia Tech Provisional Chapter has made tremendous strides over the past year. It has been both a challenging and rewarding journey. We are aiming to charter in spring 2009.

Through many ups and downs, we are looking to have the first budget surplus this spring. Through great fundraising participation from all the Brothers and conservative spending, we are successfully climbing out of the financial hole in which we unfortunately found ourselves. Our newest fundraiser is setting up the gates around Lane Stadium before each home football game. In addition, we continue to work security for the NASCAR races in Martinsville, Virginia. Our most recent new member class was also successful in raising money through a Krispy Kreme doughnut sale on campus.

We are gaining recognition among the Greek community through our great participation in philanthropy and fundraising events. In particular, we are helping a sorority on campus by auctioning off 10 of our Brothers in a date auction to raise money for the Boys and Girls Club of Southwest Virginia.

Our success is rooted in our ability to recruit exceptional young men. This past spring we initiated 10 new Brothers, and we followed that with another strong class this fall.

Each semester our Fraternity has made significant improvements. There is great potential for our chapter, and with the national support, we intend to become a pillar of the Greek community at Virginia Tech. We are all eagerly anticipating crossing over to become Brothers of Kappa Delta Rho

Epsilon Beta Chapter (Old Dominion University)

The Epsilon Beta Chapter has had an exciting start with the fall semester. The first three weeks of rush, hard work, and dedication has paid off. Forty bids have been given and we expect a pledge class of 30 plus members for the Alpha Nu Pledge Class of fall 2008. Our intramural sports are also going to be exciting. With football, fall soccer, and golf we are looking to place in the top three in all. With community service we are doing our annual Adopt-a-Street where we clean 42nd street in Norfolk, Virginia. CHKD (Children's Hospitals of the Kings Daughters) where we entertain terminally ill kids, and the Botanical Gardens where we help plant plants for mother nature.

At the National Convention we won three chapter awards. We placed third for the Executive Director's Award for Outstanding Recruitment with 20 new members and received the O.D. Roberts Award for Most Chapter Improvement. We are very proud that our own remarkable advisor, Michael Edwards, received the Most Outstanding Advisor Award. The school year is starting off with a push that puts Kappa Delta Rho in the lead of all other fraternities on campus. It is determination, spirit, dedication, and most of all brotherhood that will keep the Fraternity on top, while still proving the ideals of a Kappa Delta Rho Gentleman.

Eta Beta Chapter (West Chester University)

The Eta Beta Brothers have been very busy this semester. At the beginning of September, they pinned nine new members with an additional two new members accepting bids for the spring semester.

The Brothers have been working sporting events at Lincoln Financial Field, home of the Philadelphia Eagles. So far as a chapter, they have raised almost $2,000 dollars. They have also started a second fundraiser where they are selling discount restaurant cards to WCU students.

We have also achieved more than 250 community service hours this semester. This amount is 50 more than any other fraternity has done. The Brothers are working hard to achieve their goal of 500 community service hours for the fall semester.

Eta Beta Consul Christopher "Tiffer" Burns has been nominated to represent the Greek community as its nominee for Homecoming King. If he wins, it will be the second time in four years that a KDR Brother has won the title.

Lastly, one of our alumni, Craig Dunkle, a graduate student at Temple University is in the process of recolonizing the Xi Alpha Chapter. We would like to acknowledge his hard work and we wish him nothing but the best.

Iota Beta Chapter (Rochester Institute of Technology)

At the Iota Beta Chapter, we are off to a good start this fall. We have completed our roadside clean-up community service event a little different this season. We invited a sorority, Delta Phi Epsilon, to go with us. This was wonderful because we were able to use this event as a social event as well. It was great to establish a relationship with a house on campus that we have not had much contact with. Later this year, we are planning on larger events with other groups and setting up a new major philanthropy with one other Greek group on campus. We hope to make a large contribution to KDR Kids this year. We have doubled the pledge class we had last fall and are working to continue to recruit above retention levels.

Kappa Beta Chapter (Edinboro University)

It's been a good start for the Brothers of Kappa Beta. We had a successful fall recruitment campaign picking up eight new members who all bring a lot to the table in keeping this chapter running. On October 3-4 we celebrated our Homecoming weekend which turned out to be very successful with our Brother Rob Jackson bringing home the crown for the second year in a row! The Homecoming theme for this year was Marvel Comics where we decided to do "The Hulk" for our float which placed second. It was a great weekend for everybody not only for getting the crown but also in seeing so many alumni. As for this past summer, we held Kappa Beta's First Annual Golf Outing which had a pretty good turnout for the first year. We'd like to thank all of the alumni who participated this past year and we really hope to see you next year. The date has already been set for next summer, July 18. Finally, during this past spring semester we accomplished two major milestones. First, we took home the trophy winning Greek Week, (another title we hope to hold onto for back-to-back years). Most importantly, Kappa Beta is finally debt-free with The National Fraternity for the first time in nearly 10 years.

Phi Beta Chapter (College of William and Mary)

The Brothers of Phi Beta Chapter came back from convention ready to improve on another successful year. After winning Outstanding Recruitment and Risk Management awards, 33 Brothers returned to live in Unit A. Fueled by a passion for change, the Brothers revisited their Bylaws and now have a new direction for the Fraternity. A successful rush ended in a new pledge class of 11 members, and the Brothers cannot be happier with another bid acceptance rate of 100 percent. Also, after ending last season with an IM championship in co-rec volleyball, the Brothers are looking to make long playoff runs in IM indoor soccer and softball. The chapter is also preparing for its big philanthropy, Earthball Soccer, which will take place November 1. All alumni and Executive Director Joseph S. Rosenberg and Bob Corrie, Beta '53, visit Phi Beta at their annual Earthball Tournament.

Brothers in the Williamsburg area are welcome to attend. Just look for the giant, inflatable earthballs flying around the Sunken Gardens.

Zeta Beta Chapter (Tarleton State University)

The Zeta Beta Chapter has been hard at work this year to remain leaders on Tarleton's campus. In the 47 different organizations that we are involved in, we hold 29 executive positions. We also hold prominent roles in freshman orientation programs. Brother Shane Henry was the orientation coordinator and Brothers Justin Bell and Cole Barber served as Duck Camp coordinators and we boasted nine orientation advisors and 15 Duck Camp group leaders. This fall Brother Shane Henry has been elected as student body president and Cody Faldyn is the president of the Student Programming Association, the largest student organization on campus. We are looking to follow up our wins from last year in Yell Contest, Silver Bugle Hunt, flag football, and basketball again this fall and continue to show why the orange and blue is a step above everyone else. Our membership remains strong having initiated 21 outstanding members last year and we have recently added 22 of the finest Gentlemen on campus...this Sigma Alpha pledge class. The future looks very bright in Texas and the chapter has the fullest intentions to keep working hard and strive to make 2008-09 the best year yet.

Beta Gamma Chapter (Christopher Newport University)

The Beta Gamma Chapter has been extremely busy this scholastic year. We started off with an Open Mic Night that was open to the whole campus to come out and share their talents. We have also held one of our many philanthropic events called Cue for the Cause, a billiards tournament in which we raised a substantial amount of money for the Make a Wish Foundation. Our recruitment went well and we are continuing to spread the great name of KDR throughout our community. A vast majority of the members of student government are KDR Brothers who proudly wear their letters when creating and voting on Student policy.

Gamma Gamma Chapter (York College of Pennsylvania)

The Brothers at the Gamma Gamma Chapter have kept very busy this past school year. We initiated 11 new members during the previous year and we graduated seven. Our fall recruitment program is looking very promising and we are looking at a new member class upward of eight outstanding gentlemen.

During the previous fall semester, the chapter collected more than 500 toys for our Community Toy Drive. The chapter also raised more than $4,000 for the First Annual York College Relay for Life. All of us would like to congratulate Kris Hood for raising more than half that amount by himself in less than two months. We were nominated for the Jodi Appell Award, an award given to the organization with outstanding philanthropy for the school year and placed third out of every organization on campus.

We have been reviewing and updating our local Constitution and our local website. We are currently revamping our recruitment program with the addition of a new Rush Board, pamphlets, and business cards that will contain all the necessary information for interested students. The chapter is looking forward to participating in the intramural sports of soccer and flag football in the fall semester.

The entire chapter is excited for the new colony at McDaniel College (see page 11) and looks forward to assisting them in their growth into a chapter. We are proud to welcome Dr. Jen Martin as our new faculty advisor. She is a professor of administrative business and psychology. Dr. Martin is married to Brother Donald Martin, an alumnus from the Iota Alpha Chapter at the University of Pittsburgh, Johnstown.
